AREA DATA

Piers Island

Piers Island is a small private island that forms part of the Gulf Islands. The island is less than 1 square mile in area and is located between Colbourne Passage and Satellite Channel, near Sidney, BC and the Swartz Bay Ferry terminal on Vancouver Island. There are 131 private properties on the island and a fire hall which also serves as a community meeting space and reading library.

Owners of the island properties also belong to the Piers Island Association, which caters some social activities and arranges work parties for stewardship of the centre of the island and invasive species eradication. The island wildlife includes migratory and resident birds, black tailed deer, river otter, mink, newts and Pacific Tree frogs. All but three private properties are waterfront, which range from walk on beachfront to high bank waterfront. Transportation on the island includes electric golf carts, foot travel and bicycle.

There are no stores, hospitals or schools on the island, however, the town of Sidney is only 5-10 minutes by boat with all amenities available to islanders. A foot ferry service operated by Sea Star EcoCruising Society takes residents from Piers Island to the Swartz Bay government dock or Canoe Cove Marina. Sea Star EcoCruising also provides a water taxi service.

The Piers Island Improvement District governs and attends to all day-to-day operations of the water distribution system, volunteer fire department and parking/launch property located on Dolphin Road in North Saanich. Drinking water is supplied by the Greater Victoria Water District via North Saanich, with some re-chlorination treatment on the island by water operators for safety. Also available is electrical power supplied by BC Hydro, telephone supplied by Telus, and less than high speed ADSL internet.

Sidney

Sidney, British Columbia, affectionately known as “Sidney-by-the-Sea”, is a picturesque coastal town located on the southern tip of Vancouver Island, just 26 kilometers north of Victoria. With its prime location along the Salish Sea, the town boasts breathtaking views of nearby Gulf Islands, San Juan Islands, and even the snow-capped peak of Mount Baker on clear days. This charming town has earned a reputation for its vibrant arts and culture scene. The heart of Sidney, Beacon Avenue, is alive with creative energy, featuring public art installations like murals, sculptures, and lifelike bronze statues. The Sidney Seaside Sculpture Walk along the waterfront is particularly popular, showcasing a range of artistic talent against a stunning ocean backdrop. Known as “Canada’s Booktown”, Sidney is also a haven for book lovers, with numerous independent bookstores offering everything from rare finds to contemporary reads.

Outdoor enthusiasts will find plenty to enjoy in Sidney. The scenic waterfront walkway stretches for several kilometers, providing the perfect spot for a leisurely stroll or an afternoon of whale watching and kayaking. Salt Spring Island

Salt Spring Island is the largest, most populated (over 10,000 residents), and some might say most popular, of the Southern Gulf Islands. It is located between Vancouver Island and the Mainland in the Strait of Georgia alongside its neighbouring islands of Galiano, Pender, Saturna, Mayne and Prevost. The setting is West Coast Canadian; forested islands, wide meadows and beautiful landscapes surrounded by emerald ocean and wonderful vistas. It is the only Southern Gulf Island with a high school and a hospital.

Salt Spring Island is 27 km (17 miles) long and 14 km (9 miles) wide (74 sq. miles), with 133 km (83 miles) of shoreline. The island attracts visitors and prospective residents with its mild climate and annual sunshine in excess of 2,000 hours.

Artists, farmers, chefs, mechanics, romantics, writers, retirees and dreamers have been drawn to its shores and have recognized it as one of the world's best places to stay. Renowned for its creativity, Salt Spring Island is known as one of North America's best small arts towns and, due to the high demand to live there and limited supply of land offerings, Salt Spring Island holds some of the most desired and priciest real estate on the entire west coast of North America. The famous Saturday Market displays a great cross-section of the high-quality arts and crafts from paintings to pottery, jewellery and clothing, weaving and woodworks.

RECREATION

Beaches, trails, cycling, hiking, diving, paddle boarding, kayaking, boating, golfing and whale watching, and various community events.

HISTORY

Spanning approximately 97 hectares, the island is named after Henry Piers, a British Royal Navy surgeon who served on the H.M.S. Satellite between 1857 and 1860.

In the early 1930s, Piers Island played a unique role in Canadian history. Between 1932 and 1935, it housed a special penitentiary for the Sons of Freedom, a radical sect of the Doukhobor religious group. During this period, over 600 individuals were interned on the island.
