DESCRIPTION

This 3.16-acre trophy property on Sidney Island has an amazing 392' of west facing oceanfront looking up Sidney Channel where the summer sun sets so it enjoys amazing sunsets year-round. This parklike property is bright, sunny, warm and fully tree treed with mature fir, cedar and arbutus. It has been extensively and professionally developed with engineer approved systems and is ready to build. We have not seen another property developed to this level on Sidney Island, with improvements including power, drilled well, water, septic, propane tank, driveway and building site preparation. The asking price is well below the cost of property and development.

The 460' drilled well is connected to a 1,750 gallon underground domestic water storage tank and with 500-gallon storage in the well, ample water is assured. The engineered underground fire suppression system including two 1,750 tanks for a total of 3,500 gallons is completely setup and functional.

10 kW Generac propane generator has underground cables to the building site and well pump and the 1,000-gallon propane tank has underground lines to the house site and generator.

The approved and registered septic system designed for a 7-bedroom house or 2,000 sq. ft. main house and guest cottage has two 1,800-gallon septic tanks.

The geo-tech line was engineered revised, approved, surveyed and the house site prepared and leveled.

An RV trailer could be easily installed for immediate enjoyment while preparing to build.

Sidney Island is a private island. It is the most southerly Gulf Island and BC's best oceanfront value. A rock breakwater protects its 67-slip community dock, moorage is part of strata fees, the 2,600 ft airstrip is an aviator's dream, miles of sandy beaches and trails, super popular swimming hole, heritage orchard, full time island caretaker, 107 acres of conservancy zones, managed forest, and a sense of community like no other we have seen. The 1,343 acres of common property shared by the owners of the 111 properties on Sidney Island is larger than Stanley Park.

SIDNEY ISLAND

Unique in British Columbia, perhaps the world, Sidney Island offers the rare combination of ownership of superb waterfront property with a model of sustainable forestry, limited development of common areas, precious conservation zones and miles of sand beaches. Blessed with a Mediterranean-like climate, warm summers, mild winters, and less than 30 inches annual rainfall. Not only is it one of the most picturesque, but the last major undeveloped island in the Gulf Islands chain. From every part of the island there are breathtaking views. To the south the perennial snow-covered Olympic Range, to the east the perfect cone of Mt. Baker and the jagged peaks of the Cascades.

With its wonderful natural habitat few places have as rich a variety of wildlife as Sidney Island, which includes:

- fallow deer
- black-tailed deer
- bald eagles
- Javanese peacocks
- owls
- hawks
- turkey vultures
- mink
- woodpeckers
- hummingbirds
- great blue herons
- river otters
- a rich variety of songbirds, ducks, geese, and other waterfowl

Offshore, the waters support a wide variety of sea life including salmon, halibut, other sport fish, an array of sea birds and waterfowl, seals, sea lions, orcas, and gray whales.

The most important aspect of the development is that the privacy of the strata corporation lands was maintained, and the natural integrity of the island environment protected for the fortunate few who share in its ownership. It is a private island with no public access to the 1,760 acres of land owned by the strata corporation. The 1,343 acres of common property shared by the owners of the 111 strata lots, is larger than Stanley Park.

The result is an amazing diversity of properties with low, medium, high bank oceanfront, every possible exposure, varied topography, beautiful views, differing levels of privacy and a range of prices.

The only land on the island not owned by the Strata Corporation is the northerly portion formerly the Sidney Spit Marine Park. In 2003 it became a national park and was renamed the Gulf Islands National Park Reserve. This area comprises about four hundred acres and encloses a broad lagoon of sheltered water bordered by a long spit of sand. Mooring buoys, a small government dock, and facilities for picnicking and camping are provided. The sandy beach with protected waters is excellent for swimming.

GEOGRAPHY

Both Sidney Island and neighboring James Island are geographically unique in that they are the only Canadian Gulf Islands composed almost entirely of quaternary drift deposits—unconsolidated sand and gravel deposited by glaciers thousands of years ago—which form the sandy coastline. The east side of the island is solid rock with no geo-technical setbacks required.

VEGETATION

Sidney Island supports exceptionally lush and varied vegetation common to the south coastal climatic zone including Douglas fir, white fir, Garry oak, mock cherry, arbutus, red cedar, red alder, balsam, hemlock, aspen, yew, big leaf maple and flowering dogwood. Smaller vegetation includes Scotch broom, fireweed, gorse, wild roses, western fescue, orchard grass, salal, hawthorn, and a 50-tree orchard on the common land.

RECREATION

Boating, flying, hiking the miles of trails and beaches, swimming in our wonderful swimming pond, fishing, prawning, crabbing, whale watching, kayaking, paddling, scuba diving, photography, bird watching, cycling, exploring, and cruising the Canadian Gulf Islands and the US San Juan Islands.

HISTORY

Originally named Sallas Island, in 1859 the Hudson Bay Company, hoping to attract settlers with a more British name, changed it to Sidney Island. Many years ago, the Island was purchased by a group of Victoria businessmen as a private hunting preserve. In 1981 the Island was purchased from the last two survivors of the original owners, by Sallas Forest Limited Partnership. The subdivision into 111 strata lots was completed with titles registered in 2005 all the lots were sold in 2005 and 2006, properties for sale since then are resales.
